THE UNSEEN WORLD.

Hades as it is pictured in the books of the Apocrypha.

The book of Daniel, dating from the Maccabean age, is perhaps the earliest work in which any clear moral differentiation as regards the unseen world is manifest. "Many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever." To find a more detailed account of Hades we must turn to the books of the Apocrypha, written in Greek, and pervaded by ideas not precisely Hellenic, but Hellenistic.

In particular the book of Enoch, which deals largely in eschatology and the secrets of the universe, speaks in some detail of the future of righteous and wicked: "All goodness and joy and glory are prepared for them and are written down for the spirits of those who have died in righteousness, and manifold good will be given to you in recompense for your labors, and your lot is abundantly beyond the lot of the living." And in contrast: "Know ye that their souls (the sinners) will be made to descend into sheol, and they will become wretched, and great will be their tribulation, and into darkness and a net and a burning fire, where there is grievous condemnation, will your spirits enter, and there will be grievous condemnation for the generations of the world."

In the fourth book of Esdras it is said of the enemies of God that "they shall decay in confusion, and be consumed with shame, and wither in fear, when they see the glory of the Most High, in whose sight they sin while they are alive." Much influence on later Jewish thought was exercised by a well known passage of the later Isaiah: "They shall go forth, and look upon the carcasses of the men that have transgressed against me, for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh." These words in their primary meaning refer to the material bodies of the dead, but in the Hellenistic age they were used of the future world of spirits. And the picture of which the outline was thus sketched was by degrees filled in from non-Biblical sources. But this filling in went on but slowly and was not far advanced at the beginning of the Christian era—Contemporary Review.

LETTER WRITING.

The Art a Lost One to the Present Day

Scribblers of Hasty Notes.

Every one knows, of course, that the actual number of letters passing through the mails of every civilized country is greater, rather than less, year by year. But every one also feels that these letters are no longer letters, in the true sense, at all. They are amplified telegrams, bald and bare statements of fact, and they have the loose and disjointed and careless phraseology of the telegraphic message. That sense of the fit expression, the graceful concept, that feeling for the lucid and connected exposition of the ideas, for the balance of the parts, of a letter, for its composition, in short—the very term is pre-Adamite to the end of the century ear—but used to pre-empt the best letter writers of another generation have gone from our present day scribblers of hasty notes, as though such musty things had never been.

The only people who "compose" their letters now are cultivated old ladies. Their college bred granddaughters, intellectually armed and professionally equipped, exhibit productions in that line, of which, for the most part, it might be said, as Henry James remarked of the notes of invitation of the London society woman, that they have nothing in common with the epistolary art but the postage stamp.

It may be held that such an accomplishment is not, after all, of the greatest value. But behind it there is an instinct, deep seated in the race, that a widespread habit of careless writing affects very directly the thinking of a people. And this one cannot but believe to be the case. It takes no intellect to put plain facts into honest, self respecting phrases. But it takes self restraint and attentiveness, and these lead in time to a disciplined and coherent way of looking at life—"The Point of View" in Scribner's.

Payn's American Duel.

James Payn, the English writer, tells this story of the "American plan" of dueling, wherein the two duellists, with one second, meet within doors and draw lots for who shall shoot himself: On a recent occasion, A and B, having had a "difficulty," A was the unlucky man, and retired for the purpose of self destruction into the next apartment. B and the second, both very much moved by the tragedy of the situation, remained in listening attitudes. At last the pistol was heard; they shuddered with emotion and remorse, when suddenly in rushed the supposed dead man, triumphantly exclaiming, "Missed!"

Mary H. Shorman has been elected a member not only of the school committee, but of the board of health in Brookfield, Mass.

THE NEW WOMAN.

Of the new fashioned woman there's much been said—

Of her wanting to vote and a' that, And of her desire to wear men's attire, His coat and his vest and a' that, And a' that, and a' that. She may wear trousers and a' that, She may even ride a horse as men ride, But a woman's a woman for a' that. See yonder dandy passing by, She's up to date and a' that, She wears a man's hat, likewise his cravat, His shirt and collar and a' that, And a' that, and a' that. His suspenders and cuffs and a' that, But do what she can to imitate man A woman's a woman for a' that. The modern maid, her form arrayed In sweaters and bloomers and a' that, Rides a "bike," exactly like Her brother does and a' that. She may wear bloomers for skirts and a' that, Wear men's collars and shirts and a' that, May wear vests if she will, but the fact remains still— A woman's a woman for a' that.

A Piazza Cushion.

For piazza use at a seaside cottage, where sunshine and sea breeze abound, nothing can exceed the appropriate loveliness of the "sea dragon pillow." It is made up in the usual size—18 inches by 18 inches square. The covering is of sea green satin, that reproduces in effect the very sheen of the water in sunlight. The design upon the face of the cushion is a sea dragon drawn in exquisite curves and sweeps, and wrought in silver and gold Japanese coral conched down, with white and yellow silk thread. The embroidery sparkles and glints from the green background. A five inch double ruffle of satin, overset with a four inch fall of fish net spangled in silver and gold, completes the tout ensemble. This design will recommend itself in cheaper stuffs, green crepon or denim, or a fish net and little fishes about in water hues may be readily drawn upon the material and worked in, in Japanese gold and silver cord, and conched into place.

SEPARATION.

Life in a dull and dull abeyance stands, Beloved, when thou art gone. Frozen beneath the winter's bands, I watch the days go on. Today, among the willows, cold and curled, A bird sang of the spring. Come, for my heart waits, too, as all the world, Breathless, its blossoming. —Dorothea Lummis in Kate Field's Washington.

A Startling Admission.

In New York City, for five consecutive years, the proportion of Deaths from Consumption has been three in every Twenty Persons.

Epidemics of Cholera, Yellow Fever and other diseases of similar character, so terrible in their results, occasion wide spread alarm and receive the most careful consideration for their prevention and cure, while consumption receives scarcely a thought, yet the number of their victims sinks into insignificance when compared with those of consumption. Comparatively few people know what to do for the loved ones when they see them gradually lose strength, lose color, manifest feeble vitality and emaciation, or develop a cough, with difficult breathing, or hemorrhage. Cod liver oil was for a long time given in all such cases, but the poor success attending its use coupled with its nauseating taste has led many practitioners, as well as the public at large, to place their main reliance in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It does serve early attention and will prove effectual in every case but in a large percentage of cases, and we believe that fully 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption can be taken in the early stages of the disease, be cured with the "Discovery." Dr. Pierce does not ask people to believe until they have investigated for themselves. A pamphlet has been published having the names, addresses and photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies which will be mailed free to those sending for it with their name and address upon a postal card or you can have a medical treatise, in book form of 160 pages, mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write those cured and learn their experiences.

PLAIN AND TO THE POINT.

Governor Altgeld of Illinois uses plain and pointed language. In this respect he differs with the jargons who frame platforms for Democratic and Republican National Conventions, and because he does differ with them he is denounced as an anarchist by the henchmen of the gold trust. When asked regarding the decision of the Supreme Court remanding Eugene V. Debs and his A. R. U. associates to jail he said:

"This decision marks a turning point in our history for it establishes a new form of government, that is, government by injunction. The provisions of the Constitution that no man shall be deprived of his liberty without a trial by an impartial jury is practically wiped out by this decision and the theory that ours is a government of laws is now at an end."

For a number of years it has been remarked that the decisions of the United States Court were nearly always in favor of the corporations. Then it was noticed that no man could be appointed to Federal Judgeship unless he was satisfactory to those interests. Over a year ago the New York World talked about a packed Supreme Court, and that Court has within a few days rendered two decisions which unfortunately tend to confirm this charge. Capital sits in the White House and legislates in the capitol. The Courts of Justice are its ministers and legislators are its lackeys. The whole machinery of fashionable society is its hand-maid.

Mr. Debs and his associates have been committed to jail for six months. They were not given an impartial trial by jury as guaranteed by the Constitution, in fact they were not tried at all. Assuming that they were guilty of violating the law, one not school in the modern system of jurisprudence would suppose that they were entitled to an impartial trial by a jury of their peers, but the Supreme Court decides that they are not and that a Court has a right to commit a person to jail for an indefinite period without trial for disregarding an injunction. While Courts should have power to enforce their orders it seems but fair that they should be limited to their authority to commit persons to prison without trial.

THE SHEEP LICENSE ACT.

The Sheep License law passed by the last Legislature is being tested in Storey county. Suit was brought against a sheep owner named Mr. Gregor for not procuring a license. The firm of which the defendant is a member hold 2,000 acres of leased lands in Storey county, but they own no land in the county. Mr. Gregor was fined $150 in the Justice's Court for failure to procure a license and he has appealed to the District Court.

The Act is said to have been the joint production of sheep owners and the railroad land agents. It was reported favorably by a committee composed of sheep and cattle owners and a member who was not engaged in either of those pursuits, and it passed without opposition. Its provisions do not apply to persons, firms, companies or corporations who are the owners and holders of land equal to one acre for each two sheep. If, however, the owner of 500 sheep should not own more than 200 acres of land he would be required to pay a license, though his sheep might be kept within his enclosure from one year's end to the other.

It is said that the bill was intended to exempt the "holder or owner" of land equal to one acre for each two sheep from the payment of license, but through oversight or ignorance the clause was made to read "owner and holder" of land, so that leased lands do not fulfill the requirements of the law. As several sheep owners leased tracts of railroad lands—under the impression that it would exempt them from the payment of license, much interest is taken in the result of the Storey county case, as it is the first and only test of the law yet made, though reports were published in some papers that Judge Cheney of the Second Judicial District had declared the law constitutional.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

The New York World publishes a telegraphic poll of the next Congress, as far as outlined, on silver, tariff and income tax. Out of 116 members who gave unequivocal answers to the silver question; 55 are for free coinage, 44 for bimetalism, on the European plan, and 17 for an absolute gold standard. In regard to the tariff only 28 are against any change, 35 favor moderate changes, 30 are for radical changes and a few are free traders. On the income tax 49 favor the principle, 47 oppose it and a great many are non-committal.

The States whose delegations are solid for silver are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, North Carolina, South Carolina, South Dakota, Virginia, Washington. The States, a majority of whose delegations are for bimetalism on the international monetary plan, are Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan and Missouri. The gold men are from Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

As only 116 members out of 346 answered the World's questions the poll does not indicate how a majority of the next House of Representatives stand on the silver question.

Contractors are hard at work figuring on the cost of the Girls' Dormitory on the University grounds.

OIL WELLS ON FIRE.

Attorney-General Olney Said to be Gresham's Successor.

MORE PASSENGERS SAVED.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons Sign to Fight in Texas.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES.

Forest and Oil Wells Burning in Pennsylvania.

HATFORD, Pa., June 4.—The fire at Russell City last night drove terror to the hearts of its five hundred inhabitants. At 10 o'clock a brisk west wind fanned the burning underbrush and hemlock timber into a solid mass of fire, covering three miles in width. The flames spread so rapidly that the people had to leave everything and run to the clearing, two miles distant, at Highland Corners. Women with children in their arms, shrieking and bemoaning their fate, ran and stumbled as they escaped from the fire. Many women fell exhausted and were trampled, but reached Highland in safety. Nothing is left of the once bustling little place.

The fire is still burning fiercely among the oil wells. The Northern Oil Company have twenty oil wells and a number of tanks which are burning in these places now, and there is no abatement to the fury of the flames. It is impossible to estimate the loss. The woods leading to Clark's mills are one mass of flames on both sides of the road. How many people who live along the road could have escaped is beyond comprehension.

The fire at Ormsby is raging more fiercely than ever this morning. The place is without water protection and the flames are devouring a large area of standing timber. Saw mills and a number of houses have been consumed. A stiff breeze is blowing and there is no telling what the outcome will be.

The fire at Knapp's Creek is still raging and has done a large amount of damage. The fire has spread to Bell's Camp and thirty-five oil wells are burning.

Reports from Duke Center state that the entire valley is on fire. The loss to the oil and lumber men will be enormous.

The fire has reached the oil field at West Branch. A dense cloud of smoke has burst forth. Several wells and tanks are on fire.

GRESHAM'S SUCCESSOR.

Olney Will Probably be Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—There is no longer any reasonable doubt that the President has fully determined to ask Attorney-General Olney to accept the State Department portfolio. The President has not intimated to Olney his purpose. To other members of his Cabinet, however, he has stated in substance that he should ask Olney to accept the place. He is delaying public announcement in order that he might at the same time name a successor to Olney as Attorney-General. It is regarded likely that Senator Gray's visit to Washington may have been in response to a message from the President, and it is possible that he may have been offered the Attorney-Generalship, or consulted thereon.

OREGON REPUBLICANS.

Opposed to any Movement in the Interest of Free Coinage.

CLEVELAND, O., June 4.—A letter has been received at the National Republican League headquarters from H. J. Wells, Secretary of the Young Men's Republican Club of Oregon. Wells writes that the delegates from Oregon will oppose any effort to commit the coming Cleveland meeting to any expression of opinion in favor of free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 by the United States independently.

THE FAIR WHEAT.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The transfer of 179,600 tons of wheat belonging to the Fair estate was consummated yesterday. Four leading firms, George W. McNear, Lippinger & Co., Balfour, Guthrie & Co., and Girvin, Baldwin & Eyre were the purchasers at $17 per ton. A certified check was given in payment amounting to $3,033,200. McNear's claim against the estate for storage due was $110,000. The Court allowed $85,000 as commissions to the brokers who negotiated the sale.

A Papal Decree Misunderstood.

ROME, June 4.—It is stated at the Vatican that the Papal decree regarding Archbishop Kenrick of St. Louis has been misunderstood. Kenrick is not deposed, nor does Archbishop Kain replace him. Kain's powers as Coadjutor have been enlarged to enable him to carry on the business of the diocese, but Kenrick retains his position at the head of the diocese.

Held for Forgery.

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—N. V. Biscazul, at one time a very prominent attorney, was examined before Judge Young this morning for forging the name of Judge Shaw to legal documents and held in $5,000 bail. An attempt was made to have the errand attorney declared insane, but fell through yesterday.

A Man's Life Depending on the Result of a Microscopical Examination.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The Microscopical examination by Professor Thomas Price and four physicians, taken at the request of Governor Budd to determine whether blood on the overalls of Freeman Smith, convicted of murder in Colusa county and sentenced to be hanged at San Quentin on Saturday, is that of a human being, or of a hog, as claimed by Smith, is completed. These scientists will report to the Governor that the blood is that of a mammalian. It might be that of a man, bear or dog, but could not be that of a fowl or hog. Probably the blood is that of a human being. On this report the Governor, it is believed, will be guided in considering Smith's application for pardon.

The Death of Ex-Senator Buck Deepens the Nellie Harrington Mystery.

OAKLAND, June 4.—Ex-Senator L. W. Buck, injured by being thrown from a cart on Saturday while driving to a conference with the Chief of Police regarding the murder of his friend, Miss Nellie Harrington, died this morning. He was unconscious to the last. His death, without any statement regarding his knowledge of the murdered woman's affairs, still further deepens the mystery enveloping the tragedy. The police hoped he could throw some light on the possible assassin.

A movement seems to be on foot to dismember the Union Pacific. The Oregon Short Line has been placed under the management of a receiver, and the holders of the first mortgage bonds of the Kansas City and Omaha road, another branch of the Union Pacific, have been granted an order to file a bill against the receivers of the Union Pacific to foreclose the mortgage.

The Assembly by a decisive majority has adopted a joint resolution to submit to the people a constitutional amendment providing a system of home rule government for cities and villages through the initiative and referendum system. If the amendment is ratified every city and village in Michigan will have the right to determine how it shall be governed without consulting the Legislature.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, a refreshing and truly beneficial property of a perfect laxative, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Viavi

A physician of Reno says he would have more faith in Viavi, if we did not claim so much for it. Doctor, how can we help it, if it makes the cure for instance? Its use in Mr. Hunter's case is entirely out of its legitimate line, yet note the result. He was suffering intense pain, the physician expected his medicine to control it, in from two to three days. He used it three weeks and the pain was still as great. He was kept under opiates, to which I objected as I believe in curing pain instead of stupefying the body. The doctor said it was not probable he would ever get out again, and we must make him as comfortable as possible. I was not satisfied, I paid the doctor and sent for another. He assured me all had been done that could be, that he would have prescribed about the same. I discarded all medicine and used Viavi. In one night, with nothing but hot and cold water and Viavi Cerate, I gained control of the pain, and in two or three days not a vestige was left, and in two weeks he was on the street. There are other cases here just as wonderful. I will be glad to explain its uses to all who call.

A NEW SHORTAGE DISCOVERED.

More Bullion Found Buried in a Barn—Deposit Master Pickler in a Bad Pickle—Another Mint Official Under Arrest.

(Correspondence of the Journal.)

Carson City, June 4, 1895.

The foundations of the Capital city were upheaved as by an earthquake again this afternoon by the sudden and unexpected discovery of a lot of crude bullion concealed in the barn of William Pickler for many years acting in the responsible capacity of Deposit Master at the Carson Mint.

Mr. Pickler was so employed under the Garrard superintendency, going out with Garrard and was subsequently a Carson City policeman for a couple of years, going back into the mint when Adams came in as Superintendent. He has been residing in the south part of town west of the Briggs House a couple of blocks, living with Flo Stewart the same man and wife, and a little boy seven or eight years of age which they had adopted. This little boy was the cause of all the trouble. They had a quarrel about the ownership of the boy last Sunday in which Pickler struck her and also struck a woman who interfered. This other woman had him arrested and it cost him $10. In consequence of threats he has since made, his wife swore out a warrant to-day and put him under bonds to keep the peace.

He having obtained possession of the boy, his wife then concluded to be avenged for all his alleged bad treatment of her, declaring that she could and would send him to State Prison. She applied to the proper authorities this afternoon, a search warrant was issued and detectives raided the Pickler domicile for bullion which she swore he had stolen from the mint from time to time and concealed there. They searched the house throughout and last of all found the bullion right where she told them it was, hidden beneath a manure pile in the barn which was close by the house.

In an interview with the lady at the house where she has been stopping since her break with Pickler she freely told me the locality of the bullion. Said she, "you say they are searching but haven't found it, but they will, they can't help it." And they did less than half an hour later.

She said Pickler had been in the habit of bringing home pieces of the crude bullion from his first employment in the mint down to the present time, or within the last two or three weeks. Her description of its character could not be mistaken, it was simply retorted amalgam or crude bullion in its rough state as received from the mills or reduction works for melting into bars.

She said at one time in Garrard's administration he had sent a lot of this crude gold and silver bullion by his brother, L. A. Pickler, to San Francisco, where he sold it, amounting to about $1,000. It was taken from their residence and she saw and knew all about it. This could be traced, as the brother was out in Montana at a place called Vale or something similar. All this same story she told in a very straightforward manner to others besides myself, and the bullion found is quite corroborative, to say the least.

This rough, rugged gold and silver metal is in pieces of all sorts of shapes from the size and thickness of a boy's hand, down to small stuff in a sack, the whole weighing ten and a quarter pounds. Sheriff Kinney has it in his safe. Meanwhile Pickler mingled freely with the excited crowd in front of the county building, looking confident and smiling and at the present writing is waiting for the problem to be decided as to who among the civil or Government officials will assume the authority to arrest him.

But the proposition is that this bullion was not embezzled from the mint, or Government, but from the depositors, therefore cannot be reckoned as mint shortage. Anyhow it is funny that this newly discovered leakage has been quietly going on right in the face of the sensational mint investigation and examination. The annual Government clean up can't come any too soon.

Pickler says this bullion is all right, that it came from his brother in Idaho. He says he can explain everything satisfactorily. ALF DORRIS.

SURRENDERS TO THE SHERIFF.

Mrs. Alice M. Hartley Goes to Prison.

Yesterday Mrs. Alice M. Hartley voluntarily surrendered herself to Sheriff Caughlin. She made a persistent fight for liberty but failed to attain it. Her case was appealed to the Supreme Court, but that tribunal affirmed the judgment of the District Court. Then a special meeting of the Board of pardons was held to consider her application for pardon. Petitions, numerous signed, were presented from various parts of the State and from former citizens of Eureka, now residents of Spokane, Washington, but the Board declined to grant the application for pardon.

Mrs. Hartley had been out on bail since her case was appealed to the Supreme Court. Since her trial she gave birth to a son, now about four months old. It is said that there is no provision of law in this State that meets the requirements of her case. She does not wish to part with her baby and it has committed no offense for which it should be consigned to life in a prison, and what disposition the authorities will make of it remains to be seen. She claims that it is the child of M. D. Foley, to whom it is said to bear a striking resemblance.

SENSATION IN THE VAUGHAN CASE.

A Juror Arrested for Perjury—Another Hired in the Trial.

The Silver State has the following from Austin:

"The greatest sensational development which marks the Vaughan murder trial as the most extraordinary in the criminal annals of this State occurred to-day and if it does not result in a miscarriage of justice it will certainly add an extra expense of $2,000 to the already overburdened county of Lander. It also necessitated the postponement of the case to Wednesday, the 6th, of June.

"Yesterday forenoon District Attorney W. D. Jones and his associate, D. S. Truman, received information to the effect that juror A. A. Flint was not a proper person to sit on the trial. When they had become satisfied through witnesses that this information rested on a solid foundation, they notified Judge Mack of their discovery and themselves worked diligently on the case until 2 o'clock this morning.

"When, pursuant to adjournment, court convened at 10 A. M. the District Attorney stated the case, whereupon Jas. Kessler, Edward Dunham and Joseph Moss were called to the stand and almost unanimously testified to the following, to wit: That they had been residents of this town for over 30 years; that some five months ago, in Harry King's saloon, they and A. A. Flint with others, had a heated discussion on the merits of the Vaughan case, in the course of which A. A. Flint repeatedly asserted his belief in the guilt of Alfred Vaughan, but in case of his being accepted as a juror he would certainly acquit the defendant, no matter how pointed the evidence against the latter might be, because he was opposed to capital punishment.

"Flint himself cross examined these three men without being able to alter their testimony one iota. District Attorney Jones was put on the stand in regard to his source of information. Attorney Dennis followed, and the statement was elicited from him that he himself was informed of Flint's disqualification. Cross examined by the latter as to the names of his informers, Dennis declined to answer and was sustained by the Court, but subsequently answered Flint's next question, that only one man had spoken to him. After arguments pro and con, Judge Mack summarily ordered Flint out of the panel, at the same time commanding the clerk to take his name from the Jury box for being a totally unfit person to ever serve as a juror again.

"With the usual admonition the jury was then given in charge of two newly sworn deputy sheriffs, while Sheriff Wm. Eason himself was ordered for the third time to return a new venire by Wednesday.

"It is impossible to foretell the outcome of the trial, as a strong rumor is rife to the effect that there is another juror in the box similarly disqualified. At any rate the proceedings rest in statu quo ante, as the legal saying is, which means that all the testimony up to date has to be rehearsed for the benefit of the prospective new juror.

"At the afternoon session of court, A. A. Flint was held to answer before the committing magistrate in $500 bail for the crime of perjury. A bond in the above sum was furnished with B. Scinchetti and Harry King as sureties." OSCAR HILDEBRANT.

They Didn't Lay.

A bashful country girl went into a store at Lovelock the other day carrying some chickens. The fowls had their feet tied to prevent their escape and the young woman in her confusion, placed them on the counter. Now the young clerk is noted for his polite manners, but he is not always grammatical, and he smilingly inquired: "Are you sure they will lay there?" "Oh, n-n-no sir," she stammered blushing, "they're all roosters," and the clerk hasn't done anything since—Silver State.

AT THE UNIVERSITY.

A Banquet in the Evening—Every County in the State Represented.

The morning session at the University was occupied yesterday by the reading of Theses, and at the afternoon session the graduates of the Commercial School read their essays. Quite a large number of visitors were in attendance.

In the evening the Regents, Board of Visitors to the State University, Faculty, Alumni and Senior classes and a few invited guests were entertained at a banquet. Professor R. D. Jackson acted as toast reader, and the following program was carried out:

"The Visitors" in the absence of Judge Bonfield was responded to by Judge Cheney. "Our Alma Mater" was responded to by State Superintendent of Public Instruction H. C. Cutting. "The Women," A. C. Cleveland who was to respond to this toast was absent, so the toast was changed to "The Men" and was responded to by Mrs. R. A. Maynard. Rev. Samuel Unsworth responded to the toast of "The Student in Surplice and Gown." President Stubbs responded to the toast, "The Outgoing Class." "The student from the Faculty's point of view" was responded to by Professor McN. Miller. The reply to this was given by Miss Mabel Stanaway. Miss Stanaway's reply was one of the best efforts of the evening, giving the Faculty a good many humorous hits. Her speech was very entertaining and was well received.

"The Graduate" was responded to by F. H. Norcross '91. "Co-education," responded to by F. H. Saxton '95. "Our Normal School," responded to by Miss Francis Frey. "Retrospect," responded to by Regent H. L. Fish. "Our Greater University," by Prof. H. Thurtell, who spoke of the enlargement of the University and the revision of the courses. There were representatives present from every county in the State, over one hundred persons being seated at the tables. It was nearly 2 o'clock before the assemblage adjourned.

Could Not Be Cured

So They Said and So I Thought

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Did Cure. "For 7 long years I was a constant sufferer with indigestion, and I tried prescriptions and remedies until I became so low that I had given up all hopes of recovery, and my friends thought also that I could not be cured. The poison in my blood had not in depth, and my limbs were a solid mass of sores.

I was confined to the house and to my bed most of the time. I happened to read an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the paper and I at once prevailed upon my husband to let me try it. I got one bottle and it did me so much good that I kept using it until I had taken twelve bottles and now I am entirely cured. I am a well and hearty woman and can do my work with ease and comfort."

Mrs. LOUISA MATLOCK, Bonita, Texas.
